

Consulting Services

One of the top challenges manufacturers are facing today is a lack of implementation support. All too often, organizations are investing in hardware and software to ensure high quality production but they lack the knowledge and experience to most efficiently use these valuable tools.

With over 40 years of industry experience and expertise, our consulting services team empowers clients to further increase their product quality, accomplish projects efficiently, and gain the industry knowledge they need to become experts themselves.

Our consulting services focus on implementation, support, training, managed services and project management. We are staffed for a la carte support or dedicated teams that can be located on or off site.

Implementation

Complete end-to-end implementation services to support you from inception to launch.

- Decision workshops & solution architecture
- Pre-installation analysis and planning
- Software and solution installations
- Testing & Configuration
- Database services with ongoing support
- Custom development, application scripting and report development

Training

Comprehensive, hands-on training programs helping you accelerate the payback on your solution investment.

- Customizable curriculum to address your specific needs
- Virtual, on-site, or off-site training options

Managed Services

Support throughout implementation, integration and validation.

- Alternative hosting options

Project Management

- Ensure you launch on time, and within your budget
- Coverage for small scale projects to global roll-outs

Support

Highly seasoned technical support team staffed by consultants and engineers with industry expertise with two different relationship models.